

Peabody Papers: March 2, 2018

Thanks to the families who attended the All-School Sing Mass last week. There were just seven first graders, but they were amazing!

The next All-School Sing Mass will be held on March 24. Mark your calendars now so we have a good attendance!

The children did a wonderful job at the Mass on Thursday! Thanks to Mrs. Nash who worked with the students to perfect the motions to the song! We will be working on the Fruits of the Spirit and saying, "Yes!," to God.

We are learning to add three numbers, to identify solid shapes, and continue to memorize addition and subtraction facts.

We are adding conjunctions in English. The students are doing a better job than ever now! It is exciting to see the In reading they are showing.

In reading we will soon complete our fourth unit. The stories we have this week, will have next week, are especially enjoyable. The students are beginning to read with good expression. We are studying the character's point of view, as well as using key details to retell the stories we read.

Next week we will begin a brief unit on frogs and toads. Following that, we will study the Solar System!

Thanks, again, to our generous sponsors.

Have a great weekend!
